Did You Know... Fun New Hampshire Facts

- New Hampshire was the first original colony to declare its independence from England.
- Mt. Washington is home to the fastest wind speed recorded at ground level with winds three times faster than those in most hurricanes!
- America's Stonehenge in Salem is a 4000-year-old megalithic site.
- New Hampshire was named by Captain John Smith after the town of Hampshire, England.
- New Hampshire delegates were the first to vote for the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776.
- The Irish-born American sculptor – Augustus Saint-Gaudens, an Irish-born American sculptor – lived and worked in Cornish from 1885 until his death in 1907.
- Levi Hutchins of Concord invented the first alarm clock in 1787.
- The first potato planted in the US was in 1719 in Derry, which, at that time, was named Nutfield.
- New Hampshire's State House is the oldest state capitol where a legislature still meets in its original chambers.
- The "Old Man in the Mountain," depicted on the New Hampshire state quarter, was a rock formation in Franconia Notch made up of five granite ledges that lined up perfectly into the shape of a man's profile. The profile extended nearly 40 feet from forehead to chin. In 2003, the Old Man collapsed from its perch 1200 feet above Profile Lake.
- The Bavarian-style hamlet of Merrimack is home to the Clydesdales maintained by the Anheuser-Busch Brewery.
- New Hampshire adopted the first legal lottery in the US in 1963.
- Settled in 1623, Dover is the oldest permanent settlement in New Hampshire.
- Exeter was the first capital city of New Hampshire.
- New Hampshire was home to the first American astronaut, Alan Shepard, Jr., as well as the first private civilian, Christa McAuliffe, to travel into space. Shepard's 15-minute flight onboard Freedom 7 in 1961, launched him 116 miles into the atmosphere before landing safely. McAuliffe, a schoolteacher from Concord, perished aboard the Challenger space shuttle on January 28, 1986, 73 seconds and 48,000 feet after liftoff.
- New Hampshire is the only state to have hosted the formal ending of a foreign war. The treaty ending the Russo-Japanese War was signed in Portsmouth in 1905.
