Electric Earth Concerts is continuing its series of videocasts, with a goal of supporting musicians who, because of the Covid-19 pandemic, are unable to perform for live audiences.

Now available is “A Bird Came Down the Walk,” a videocast with Mimi Solomon, piano, Laura Gilbert, flute, and Jonathan Bagg, viola. It is available at https://electricearthconcerts.org/.

Pianist Solomon brings grace and intensity to her collaboration with EEC’s Artistic Directors, Laura Gilbert and Jonathan Bagg. The music of birds, a favorite topic of composers, takes center stage with works by Israeli composer Lior Navok, 20th-century icon of supporting musicians, Toru Takemitsu, North African Shirish Korde, and New Hampshire-born Amy Beach. This concert was recorded in the same room. with all three performers.

The program includes:

- The concert will be available to provide a wide range of dental services, beginning August 10, 2020.

Dr. Patel grew up in India and received her Bachelor of Dental Surgery from the Dharmsinh Desai University in Nadiad, India. After coming to the US, she worked as a Dental Hygienist and is excited to make the move to New Hampshire and join the Welnak Dental team.

We are pleased to introduce a new dentist joining the Welnak Dental team, Dr. Krutiben Patel.

Dr. Patel will be available to provide a wide range of dental services, beginning August 10, 2020.
